

About Kitchen Table Conversations

Moderator Training is for ...

Experienced professionals who ...

- wish to expand their expertise & skill
- Work with rapid & frequent change
- are facilitators, moderators, negotiators, strategists, coaches, communication & marketing specialists, or project managers

Kitchen Table Conversations allows participants to reside in a state of heightened cooperation where it is easy & safe to disagree, air differences of opinions, quickly confirm or repudiate assumptions & organizational dogma.

The Kitchen Table Conversation

concept started from these 2 converging ideas;

1. that information sharing should be fun & lively; and
2. people do not have the time or the energy to learn yet another 'new' method or vocabulary for brainstorming or innovation

Conversations...

Retail
Law
Arts & Media
Engineering

47 cities

Technology
Entrepreneurs

4 continents

1000+ conversations

Unions Universities
Financial Institutions

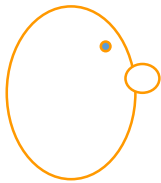

9 countries

Government
Innovation Centres

Why Kitchen Table Conversations?

In today's environment of chaotic & complex change, the Kitchen Table Conversation process creates a comfortable & safe environment for open communication & information sharing.

Generate new ways of thinking

Create the future

Make innovation part of the day2day

Give everyone a voice

Resolve problems

- allows a different perspective
- draws out new information
- opens possibilities
- takes the 'temperature' of a situation
- attracts attention to unseen elements
- encourages safe risk-taking

Scripts

Guides

Providing freedom through structure

Storytelling

Anchoring key messages

Metaphor

Anchoring key behavioural expectations

KTC Certification & Accreditation

KTC Certificate = 6 Moderator Training modules

KTC Associate = 6 modules + 2 successfully reviewed KTCs

KTC Trainer = above + 20 KTC + TtT program

Associates in good standing are listed on Post.Stone & StratAffect sites and become part of the global network of KTC Moderators. Associates receive updated materials and may have case studies &/or project summaries included in promotional releases, educational material and research.